Poor in Large Towns; Motion, That, in the opinion of this House, the chronic poverty of great numbers of the people living in the larger Cities and Towns of Great Britain is a danger of the well-being of the State, and calls for the instant attention of the Government to remedial measures by which the depopulation of the agricultural districts may be checked, and the congestion of the great centres of population relieved; Amendment proposed, to leave out from the word "That" to the end of the Question, in order to add the words "this House fully recognises the danger to the well-being of the State caused by the chronic poverty and overcrowding of great numbers of the people living in London and the larger Cities and Towns of Great Britain, and is of opinion that in the consideration and development by the Government of some well-devised scheme of State Colonisation an effective and practical remedy for this state of things can be found, whereby an outlet for our unemployed agricultural class now migrating annually to our large cities and towns, and increasing the want and poverty there, will be provided, the large tracts of fertile and unoccupied lands in our Colonies will be profitably utilised, and the evils arising from over-population and agricultural depression at Home will be relieved"; Question, That the words proposed to be left out stand part of the Question; and, it being One of the clock, the Debate stood adjourned, 105.
